SOUGHT TO ESCAPE FROM BURNING THEATRE

TRAGEDY OCCURRED AT MONTREAL ON SUNDAY EVENING

30 VICTIMS IN HOSPITALS TODAY, SOME OF WHOM WILL DIE

Montreal, Que., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Seventy-seven children, averaging 11 years of age, were smothered, crushed, or trampled to death when they tried to make their escape from the balcony floor of a burning moving picture theatre here Sunday.

About 30 victims were in hospitals today, mostly children, some of whom were expected to die.

The owner, Emile E. Lawland, and the assistant manager, ticket taker and doorman were taken into custody about midnight last night, and held pending a coroner's inquest today. It was expected that they will be charged with violating a law of the province of Quebec prohibiting the admission of children under 16 to a theatre when not accompanied by a parent or guardian.

With the grimmest of irony, the film being flashed on the screen at the time an usher shouted "fire," and the panic broke out, was "Get 'Em Young."

About a thousand people were in the house at the time, most of them on the lower floor. But the balcony, because of the cheaper admission, was filled largely with children.

It was at a bend five steps from the bottom of the left staircase that the terrified children became hopelessly wedged and died.

The living and dead were wedged so tightly in the turn of the staircase that the policemen and firemen were compelled to chop holes into the walls and stairs before they could extricate the human mass.

As the mangled bodies were passed, they were laid on the sidewalk, or carried into nearby stores and houses. Those pronounced dead were placed in rooms to await the morgue wagons and covered with sheets, while the more seriously injured were rushed to hospitals in ambulances and borrowed cars.

Priests moved through the throng, administering the last rites of the Catholic church to the dying. Never in the history of Montreal had such scenes been witnessed.

Constable Albert Boisseau found all of his children among the dead. He discovered the body of his eldest daughter, Germaine, 13, lying outside the theatre, and shortly afterwards identified Rolland, 11, and Yvette, 8, at the morgue.

The scene in the little room of the coroner's court was unparalleled. A long line of weeping parents, brothers and sisters led to the bench where Coroner McMahon had opened the inquest in order to allow relatives to claim the bodies.

Among those questioned by the coroner was Benjamin Roy, who explained that his 14-year-old son Rene had gone to the Laurier Palace, with a friend, to celebrate his birthday. The friend escaped, but Rene died.

The fire itself, which was believed to have been caused by a short circuiting of a wire, was in itself of no consequence. There would have been no deaths except for the stampede.

Montreal, Jan. 10.—Through the night mothers and fathers, in an agony of suspense, moved in little groups through the city morgue, seeking their children among the bodies taken from the Laurier Palace picture theatre, where 77 were suffocated and trampled to death in a mad stampede caused by a small fire in the balcony.

At the hospitals, others inquired for the missing among the 30 or more victims, some in a dying condition, being cared for there.

When the morgue reopened today, after being closed for a brief respite from the harrowing work of identification, 74 of the dead had been identified.

The story of the tragedy, assembled today from the incoherent accounts of those who survived and the description of rescue workers, was a pitiful account of young lives sacrificed needlessly through blind panic.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 10.—Quebec had passed a law designed to prevent such a tragedy as that of yesterday—when 77 children lost their lives in the panic following a spurt of

1,000 HOUSES DESTROYED BY FIRE, TONDO AREA, MANILA

Manila, P. I., Jan. 10.—(UP)—One thousand houses in the Tondo section of Manila were destroyed by fire today, but so far as was known none had been killed and only two persons were injured.

Strong winds aided the flames to sweep through the area which principally was composed of houses constructed of nipa grass. Before the first firemen arrived several houses were burning with the seething enthusiasm of a scientifically constructed bonfire.

Firemen and soldiers rescued many women and children and assisted in transforming school houses and other public buildings into temporary shelters.

Approximately 5,000 persons were left homeless by the blaze, which swept four solid blocks, causing a loss estimated at $750,000.

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 10.—(UP)—The Almee Semple McPherson conspiracy case, which has been a national sensation for months, was ordered dismissed today in superior court.

The charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice against the evangelist, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator of Angeles Temple, were thrown out of court at the request of District Attorney Keyes.

Keyes told the court that the case against the evangelist and her associates had collapsed because the state's star witness, Mrs. Lorraine Wisemann, gave perjured testimony at the preliminary hearing.

"No person or persons in charge of a motion picture hall where shows are given by means of a cinematograph," reads the provincial legislation, "and in the case of a company or partnership, no manager or other person in charge of the establishment shall receive in any way, at such shows, any child less than 16 years of age, unless such child be accompanied by his or her father, mother, teacher or a guardian especially authorized by the father or mother."

The law provides a penalty of one month's imprisonment for the first offense. Exception is made only for special "children's shows," authorized by censors. Seventy-five per cent of the children killed yesterday were said to have been unaccompanied.

Four men, the proprietor, assistant manager, head usher and ticket taker of the theatre were taken to detective bureau today and were held in ball of $500.

The men are Syrians, Ameen Lawand, 31, Michael Arie, 34, Camil Bazy, 30, and Alex Bazy, 32.

ARMED REVOLT TO BEGIN AT ONCE IN OLD MEXICO

MANIFESTO ISSUED AND QUOTED IN EL PASO TODAY

DECLARATION SIGNED BY GEN. FERNANDEZ AND GEN. GALINDO

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 10.—(UP)—Armed revolt in Mexico will begin at once, according to a manifesto issued in El Paso today.

The declaration was signed by Gen. Nicholas Fernandez and Gen. Juan B. Galindo.

The manifesto declared Rene Capistran Garza as "head of the executive power of the national government of freedom," and Jose F. Gandara as "head of military control."

In effect, Garza is pre-constitutional head of the provisional government and Gandara is secretary of war.

The manifesto was made public today by Gandara. It was addressed to the people of Mexico.

"This movement has no connection with any movement or aspirations of Adolfo De La Huerta," Gandara said.

"We have approximately 15,000 men under arms. Our forces in northern Mexico are well supplied with arms and ammunition, but units in the central and southern portions of the republic are lacking, temporarily, in both.

The first objective will be the occupation of a city on or near the northern border. However, this is not likely to be Juarez."

Article 27 of the 1917 constitution will not be against foreign owners of oil lands and other land in Mexico, the manifesto sets forth. The declaration says:

"In regard to article 27 of the constitution of 1917, it will be reformed in conformity with the fundamental principle of respect for private property, the non-retroactivity of all laws and the usage of international law."

Garza is a resident of Mexico City. He is a national leader of the Roman Catholic lay movement in Mexico.

Gandara and his family fled Chihuahua City about 12 years ago as political exiles. He took refuge in the United States and went into business in El Paso as proprietor of the Desert Art Shop.

General Fernandez now is head of a revolutionary military unit operating in Chihuahua.

General Galindo now is leading a revolutionary unit in Durango.

The fundamental principles of the program contained in the manifesto are encompassed in these 10 chief points:

1. Absolute freedom of religion and conscience—based on a complete and absolute separation of church and state.
2. Absolute freedom of education.
3. Absolute political freedom.
4. Absolute freedom of the press.
5. Absolute freedom of assembly, petition and speech.
6. Complete guarantees for the working man.
7. Complete guarantees for native and foreign capital and investments.
8. Non-retroactivity of all laws.
9. Respect for private rights.
10. Encouragement of small land holdings without violating the rights of legitimate owners.

BILL MAY BE REPORTED TO THE HOUSE BY AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 10.—A sincere effort to force through a farm relief bill in the eight remaining weeks of this session of congress was promised today by farm bloc leaders who are working to shape bills for consideration in both houses.

A bill is expected to be reported to the house by the agriculture committee before the end of the week, and hearings are to be begun before the senate agricultural committee within a few days, Chairman McNary announced.

Elimination of tax reduction and delay in consideration of elections cases has opened the way for the farm bills as the big legislation of the session, leaders pointed out. Republicans are especially eager to eliminate the perplexing problem from the 1928 political situation and democrats are working toward the same end.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The senate agriculture committee reported favorably the Norbeck bill authorizing appropriation of $6,000,000 for loans to drought-stricken farmers of the northwest for purchase of seed. Each farmer is limited to a $300 loan.

An overheated stove was said to have started the blaze. No one was in the factory at the time.

"SHADY REST" OF BIRGER IS MASS OF RUINS

CITADEL OF SWAGGERING GUN-
MAN RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

GANGSTERS SET FIRE TO ROAD-
HOUSE, ESCAPE WITHOUT BEING SEEN

Marion, Ill., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Gang hatred of Illinois has flared into resistance again today and armed fortress of Charley Birger, "Shady Rest," is a mass of charred embers, while four persons are dead, so badly burned that identification is impossible.

The citadel of the swaggering Birger—who has not been seen for more than a week—was bombed, riddled with bullets and finally burned early Sunday.

The gangsters who set fire to the roadhouse escaped without being seen.

So far Governor Len Small, who is at his home at Kankakee, Ill., has said he can see no need of troops again being sent into Williamson county to quell the riotous spirit. Local authorities have not sought outside aid.

The latest outbreak in the sanguinary warfare that has added to the already long list of casualties in bloody Williamson county, came in the quiet of a crisp Sunday morning.

Two motor cars, their curtains drawn, whirled through Marion bound in the direction of the Birger roadhouse and gun range, just on the border line of the county.

Shortly after midnight the sharp staccato of rifles and possibly machine gun bullets rang out. It was followed by bombings and soon the sky pinkened as the first flames ate their way into the road-side roadhouse, the "Shady Rest" arsenal and the power house which furnishes light for Birger's fortress.

Sunday Sheriff Coleman visited the charred wreckage of the Birger hut. It was leveled. Trees which formed a background were touched by the flames and were blackened. The power house had been destroyed by bombs.

Deep in the burned piles, four bodies were found. They were burned so badly that sex was even indistinguishable. An inquest will be held today but authorities expect to learn little from this.

Birger, who makes his home at Harrisburg, has not been seen since shortly after New Year's Day. He had made threats to "get" Carl Shelton, leader of an opposing gang, before New Year's Eve but this threat apparently went unexecuted.

The four deaths Sunday brought the total of gang murders to thirteen within the past year.

CURFEW WILL RING IN MARION FROM NOW ON

The mayor and the chief of police today issued orders that hereafter all people must be off the street after 11 p. m. unless they have a legitimate reason for being in the downtown district.

The officials believe such an order will result in a cleanup of the gangsters who have been terrorizing this vicinity for several months.

U. S. MUST QUELL REVOLT IN NICARAGUA

"MUST BE DONE," SAYS PRESIDENT COOLIDGE IN MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

AMERICAN LIVES AND PROPERTY
MUST BE PROTECTED

Washington, Jan. 10.—(UP)—The United States government must quell the revolution in Nicaragua in order to protect American lives and property, President Coolidge asserted in a message he sent to congress.

Declaring that he is only following in the path of his predecessors, the president said he deemed it his duty to take all steps toward stabilization of the established government of Nicaragua.

"There is no question," Mr. Coolidge said, "that if revolution continues, American investments and business interests in Nicaragua will be very seriously affected, if not destroyed. American as well as foreign bondholders will undoubtedly look to the United States for protection of their interests."

"The United States cannot fail to view with deep concern any serious threat to stability and constitutional government in Nicaragua tending toward anarchy and jeopardizing American interests, especially if such state of affairs is contributed to or brought about by outside influences or by any foreign power."

"It has always been and remains the policy of the United States in such circumstances to take the steps that may be necessary for the preservation and protection of the lives, the property and the interests of its citizens and of this government itself. In this respect I propose to follow the path of my predecessors."

"Consequently I have deemed it my duty to use the powers committed to me to insure the adequate protection of all American interests in Nicaragua whether they be endangered by internal strife or by outside interference in the affairs of that republic."

Washington, Jan. 10.—The president's Mexico-Nicaragua message was received with mixed sentiments in the senate and house. Supporters of the administration policy accepted the document as a complete justification of American activity and opponents condemned the message as "flimsy proof."

"The president offers exceptionally flimsy proof," said Sen. Wheeler, democrat, Montana. "There is not any doubt that Diaz is an agent and tool of the old Chamorro regime in Nicaragua."

"I consider the message a direct, open and public affront to Mexico," Sen. Bingham, republican, Connecticut, expressed the opinion of the other side, saying:

"The message absolutely justified the policy of the state department. It shows we acted correctly, exercised patience and have taken care to preserve our moral and political responsibilities in the Caribbean."

Washington, Jan. 10.—Danger to American lives and property on the Nicaraguan east coast is increasing, Admiral Latimer, commander of the United States forces of occupation, reported to the state department today. Latimer said:

"Business along the Escondido river has been paralyzed, property

FLOOD OF BILLS TO SHOOT DOWN CAPITOL HOPPER

LEADERS ANTICIPATE CONSIDERATION OF FROM 25 TO 50 BILLS DAILY

PROHIBITION REFERENDUM, ANTI-EVOLUTION, HIGHWAY BOND ISSUE UP

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Minnesota solons in recess since Thursday returned to the capitol today prepared for the hard work of the remaining days of the legislative session. Lieut. Gov. W. I. Nolan and Speaker John A. Johnson will announce committee assignments when both houses reconvene at 8 o'clock tonight and the race will be on.

A veritable flood of bills is expected to pass down the legislative hopper in the 90-day session. Leaders anticipate consideration of from 25 to 50 bills a day.

Prohibition referendum, anti-evolution bills and a $20,000,000 highway bond issue will be among the first major items of discussion.

Since both houses are overwhelmingly dry, the bill drawn up by Rep. John J. McDonough, St. Paul, calling for a referendum on the prohibition bill, is conceded little chance of passage. McDonough would have the people of the state express their opinions on the Volstead act at one of the regular elections in 1928. He points out that the only expense entailed would be that of the printing bill for the ballots.

The anti-evolution bill suggested by W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church, Minneapolis, and president of the World's Fundamental Association, would provide fines ranging from $50 to $200 for those teaching the evolutionary theory in schools supported by the state. The proposed bill has caused widespread controversy both in the state and nation.

Despite Governor Theodore Christianson's declaration during his inaugural address, that a highway bond issue is not necessary at this time, Highway Commissioner C. M. Babcock recommends a $20,000,000 issue to raise road funds for the next two years. He also wants the automobile tax increased from the present rate of 2.4 per cent to the old rate of 2.75 with a minimum of $12 on small cars and $15 on large cars. The gasoline tax, in addition, would be increased from three cents a gallon.

Beginning Tuesday the house will hold afternoon sessions, with committee meetings in the morning. The senate will meet in the morning and have committee sessions each afternoon.

has been seized, and conditions are becoming serious so far as American lives and property are concerned.

The revolutionary forces have already interfered with the shipment of provisions for the lumber companies' employees.

"I have established neutral zones at Principolka and Pearl Lagoon."

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 10.—A "stand by" marine battalion consisting of 23 officers and 467 men, was completed here today by order of Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler and may be called for service in Nicaragua, though no orders have yet been received.

Marines recalled from mail guard duty, men stationed at the base and a detachment on its way from New Orleans compose the battalion.

Tropical kits are being issued to the men as they arrive for duty and from this it is considered likely that they may be sent to Nicaragua.

As organized, the force is to consist of three rifle companies and one machine gun and howitzer company. It will be commanded by Lt. Col. William H. Pritchett and Major Alexander A. Vandergrift.

CANNING CO. AT FARIBAULT HAS $40,000 FIRE LOSS

An overheated stove was said to have started the blaze. No one was in the factory at the time.

"SHADY REST" OF BIRGER IS MASS OF RUINS

CITADEL OF SWAGGERING GUN-
MAN RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

GANGSTERS SET FIRE TO ROAD-
HOUSE, ESCAPE WITHOUT BEING SEEN

Marion, Ill., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Gang hatred of Illinois has flared into resistance again today and armed fortress of Charley Birger, "Shady Rest," is a mass of charred embers, while four persons are dead, so badly burned that identification is impossible.

The citadel of the swaggering Birger—who has not been seen for more than a week—was bombed, riddled with bullets and finally burned early Sunday.

The gangsters who set fire to the roadhouse escaped without being seen.

So far Governor Len Small, who is at his home at Kankakee, Ill., has said he can see no need of troops again being sent into Williamson county to quell the riotous spirit. Local authorities have not sought outside aid.

The latest outbreak in the sanguinary warfare that has added to the already long list of casualties in bloody Williamson county, came in the quiet of a crisp Sunday morning.

Two motor cars, their curtains drawn, whirled through Marion bound in the direction of the Birger roadhouse and gun range, just on the border line of the county.

Shortly after midnight the sharp staccato of rifles and possibly machine gun bullets rang out. It was followed by bombings and soon the sky pinkened as the first flames ate their way into the road-side roadhouse, the "Shady Rest" arsenal and the power house which furnishes light for Birger's fortress.

Sunday Sheriff Coleman visited the charred wreckage of the Birger hut. It was leveled. Trees which formed a background were touched by the flames and were blackened. The power house had been destroyed by bombs.

Deep in the burned piles, four bodies were found. They were burned so badly that sex was even indistinguishable. An inquest will be held today but authorities expect to learn little from this.

Birger, who makes his home at Harrisburg, has not been seen since shortly after New Year's Day. He had made threats to "get" Carl Shelton, leader of an opposing gang, before New Year's Eve but this threat apparently went unexecuted.

The four deaths Sunday brought the total of gang murders to thirteen within the past year.

CURFEW WILL RING IN MARION FROM NOW ON

Marion, Ill., Jan. 10.—(UP)—The curfew will ring in Marion from now on.

The mayor and the chief of police today issued orders that hereafter all people must be off the street after 11 p. m. unless they have a legitimate reason for being in the downtown district.

The officials believe such an order will result in a cleanup of the gangsters who have been terrorizing this vicinity for several months.

U. S. MUST QUELL REVOLT IN NICARAGUA

"MUST BE DONE," SAYS PRESIDENT COOLIDGE IN MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

AMERICAN LIVES AND PROPERTY
MUST BE PROTECTED

Washington, Jan. 10.—(UP)—The United States government must quell the revolution in Nicaragua in order to protect American lives and property, President Coolidge asserted in a message he sent to congress.

Declaring that he is only following in the path of his predecessors, the president said he deemed it his duty to take all steps toward stabilization of the established government of Nicaragua.

"There is no question," Mr. Coolidge said, "that if revolution continues, American investments and business interests in Nicaragua will be very seriously affected, if not destroyed. American as well as foreign bondholders will undoubtedly look to the United States for protection of their interests."

"The United States cannot fail to view with deep concern any serious threat to stability and constitutional government in Nicaragua tending toward anarchy and jeopardizing American interests, especially if such state of affairs is contributed to or brought about by outside influences or by any foreign power."

"It has always been and remains the policy of the United States in such circumstances to take the steps that may be necessary for the preservation and protection of the lives, the property and the interests of its citizens and of this government itself. In this respect I propose to follow the path of my predecessors."

"Consequently I have deemed it my duty to use the powers committed to me to insure the adequate protection of all American interests in Nicaragua whether they be endangered by internal strife or by outside interference in the affairs of that republic."

Washington, Jan. 10.—The president's Mexico-Nicaraguan message was received with mixed sentiments in the senate and house. Supporters of the administration policy accepted the document as a complete justification of American activity and opponents condemned the message as "flimsy proof."

"The president offers exceptionally flimsy proof," said Sen. Wheeler, democrat, Montana. "There is not any doubt that Diaz is an agent and tool of the old Chamorro regime in Nicaragua."

"I consider the message a direct, open and public affront to Mexico," Sen. Bingham, republican, Connecticut, expressed the opinion of the other side, saying:

"The message absolutely justified the policy of the state department. It shows we acted correctly, exercised patience and have taken care to preserve our moral and political responsibilities in the Caribbean."

Washington, Jan. 10.—Danger to American lives and property on the Nicaraguan east coast is increasing, Admiral Latimer, commander of the United States forces of occupation, reported to the state department today. Latimer said:

"Business along the Escondido river has been paralyzed, property

FLOOD OF BILLS TO SHOOT DOWN CAPITOL HOPPER

LEADERS ANTICIPATE CONSIDERATION OF FROM 25 TO 50
BILLS DAILY

PROHIBITION REFERENDUM, ANTI-EVOLUTION, HIGHWAY
BOND ISSUE UP

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Minnesota solons in recess since Thursday returned to the capitol today prepared for the hard work of the remaining days of the legislative session. Lieut. Gov. W. I. Nolan and Speaker John A. Johnson will announce committee assignments when both houses reconvene at 8 o'clock tonight and the race will be on.

A veritable flood of bills is expected to pass down the legislative hopper in the 90-day session. Leaders anticipate consideration of from 25 to 50 bills a day.

Prohibition referendum, anti-evolution bills and a $20,000,000 highway bond issue will be among the first major items of discussion.

Since both houses are overwhelmingly dry, the bill drawn up by Rep. John J. McDonough, St. Paul, calling for a referendum on the prohibition bill, is conceded little chance of passage. McDonough would have the people of the state express their opinions on the Volstead act at one of the regular elections in 1928. He points out that the only expense entailed would be that of the printing bill for the ballots.

The anti-evolution bill suggested by W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church, Minneapolis, and president of the World's Fundamental Association, would provide fines ranging from $50 to $200 for those teaching the evolutionary theory in schools supported by the state. The proposed bill has caused widespread controversy both in the state and nation.

Despite Governor Theodore Christianson's declaration during his inaugural address, that a highway bond issue is not necessary at this time, Highway Commissioner C. M. Babcock recommends a $20,000,000 issue to raise road funds for the next two years. He also wants the automobile tax increased from the present rate of 2.4 per cent to the old rate of 2.75 with a minimum of $12 on small cars and $15 on large cars. The gasoline tax, in addition, would be increased from three cents a gallon.

Beginning Tuesday the house will hold afternoon sessions, with committee meetings in the morning. The senate will meet in the morning and have committee sessions each afternoon.

COLD WINDS WHIP MIDDLE WEST TODAY

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(UP)—Cold, northwest winds whipped the middle west today in the wake of heavy snowfall over most of the Mississippi valley states Sunday. No extreme temperatures are expected, however, by the Chicago weather bureau.

has been seized, and conditions are becoming serious so far as American lives and property are concerned. The revolutionary forces have already interfered with the shipment of provisions for the lumber companies' employees.

"I have established neutral zones at Principolka and Pearl Lagoon."

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 10.—A "stand by" marine battalion consisting of 23 officers and 467 men, was completed here today by order of Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler and may be called for service in Nicaragua, though no orders have yet been received.

Marines recalled from mail guard duty, men stationed at the base and a detachment on its way from New Orleans compose the battalion.

Tropical kits are being issued to the men as they arrive for duty and from this it is considered likely that they may be sent to Nicaragua.

As organized, the force is to consist of three rifle companies and one machine gun and howitzer company. It will be commanded by Lt. Col. William H. Pritchett and Major Alexander A. Vandergriff.

PUTTING THE TOWN "ON THE MAP"

A searchlight recently turned on the towns and cities of the United States showed that 42% of the 767 communities covered in the survey are making annual appropriations for municipal music, says the Conn Music Center. Only towns with a population of 5,000 or over were included except in Iowa where it was wanted to find out to what extent advantage is being taken of the exceptionally favorable music legislation in effect in that state.

Although figures are not available to compare the present situation with that of ten or fifteen years ago, it is generally agreed that it reflects a decidedly warmed interest in music in general and a greater recognition of the benefits of municipal music in particular. Municipal, park and local bands, community singing, organ and orchestra concerts, Christmas caroling, Music Week and other musical activities enjoyed by everybody in the community have been found some of the best means of welding a town together, "putting it on the map" and raising the cultural standards of the city. "Community music is one of the finest educational functions a city can adopt," one mayor volunteered in answering the survey, while another expressed himself with, "This seems the only way to obtain free good music for all the people with any approach to regularity and sufficient quantity."

A COURT BUMP FOR FLORIDA

THE United States supreme court has put a large crimp in the hope of Florida that its state constitutional prohibition of estate taxes would be a strong inducement for men and women of wealth to establish residences and bases of operation in that state.

It is the judgment of the court that Florida is not immune from the collection of federal estate taxes as provided for in the existing revenue act. Under this act it is possible for all the states levying inheritance or estate tax of their own to retain 80 per cent of the amount levied by the federal government. As Florida has no state inheritance, it loses all but 20 per cent of the advantage it aimed to set up as a magnet to attract wealth to it.

There has been mighty little friendly interest in other states in the particular complaint put forward by Florida against the federal inheritance tax law. An obvious selfish purpose lay behind the adoption of Florida's constitutional inhibition.

On the other hand, there is a widespread feeling in the states that the federal government should retire altogether from the business of taxing estates for national treasury purposes. President Coolidge believes that this sort of taxation should be left exclusively to the several states. There is plenty of evidence that the sum of state taxation and federal taxation works flagrant injustice in many cases, and sometimes almost amounts to confiscation.

The federal law as it now stands virtually operates as coercion on the states to establish or maintain inheritance tax systems of their own, whether they desire to do so or not, and to formulate their systems with intimate reference to the federal law.

With its surpluses in the last few years the United States government has shown that it can fill its revenue chest without recourse to estate taxation. The court of last resort has decided that the present law is valid as a federal measure, but that does not have any bearing on the merit or demerit of the law in respect of a public policy. Florida's only hope now is that pressure from that and other states can effect repeal of the federal inheritance tax provision.—Minneapolis Tribune.

DIVORCE AND NEWS

ENGLAND in prohibiting the publication of divorce testimony or "details injurious to public morals" takes a definite move toward cleaner journalism, says the Dearborn Independent in a recent editorial.

The question of the freedom of the press, raised by some, does not enter in for the simple reason that no political or economic right is abridged. No right of comment is curtailed. All that is done is to prevent the printing of a certain type of unsavory scandal.

The regrettable feature of the case is that the newspapers did not take the step themselves, continues the Dearborn Independent; they waited for the law to compel them. The same thing is now happening in this country. The pendulum of "news" has swung so far beyond the line of common decency that it is but a question of time before the state will step in, unless the press itself takes corrective measures.

It has been the invariable custom in America to allow institutions a long period in which to remedy their own evils. But if reform does not come, then the people rise up in their own right and abolish them.

It may be stated by the Dispatch that bare statements of some divorce cases are permissible, but the unsavory scandal of any divorce proceeding should not be given extended publicity. In our courts at Brainerd cases sometimes occur with testimony of such a nature that the public is barred from the court room. To publish such testimony would give offense to judge and bar and the parties in the case, as well as offending common decency of our readers.

WHY MIX THE TRADES?

THE Isle Advance states that it believes that the co-operative creamery in that village should not attempt to engage in the mercantile business but should confine its activities to the business of making butter. The Advance in all probability has assumed the correct position. If the farmers in that community want a co-operative mercantile company, they should make that a separate financial venture.

It is always refreshing in a small community to find a business house confining its activities to its own field. We would be more than a little disturbed if we should find our meat markets in this village putting in a line of ladies' millinery, and we want to congratulate the garages in having thus far refrained from carrying a stock of ladies' silk hose or toilet articles.—Princeton Union.

BULK OF OUR TOYS NOW MADE IN U. S. A.

CHRISTMAS is over and it may be interesting to know that more toys have been manufactured in the United States during recent years than ever before. Figures available for the year 1925 show a production valued at more than $75,000,000. Twenty years ago Germany dominated the toy trade of the world and continues to do so outside of this country, but here German toys now account for only five per cent of the demand, although in 1904, the proportion was almost fifty per cent.—Red Wing Daily Eagle.

We received a Phoenix, Arizona, booster edition of a Phoenix paper from H. F. Michael, former Brainerd man now residing there. It is a wonderful record of achievement in that section and shows Phoenix, phoenix-like, arising to greater heights in the world of commerce, art, science, manufacturing, agriculture, etc.

Todd county, getting in line with other enlightened counties, is considering the purchasing of snow removal equipment. There has been a heavy blockade, for instance, of roads leading into Staples.

A MACHINE gun, three sawed-off shotguns and three high power rifles have been added to Owatonna equipment to guard against bank robbers.

A UNITED STATES statute declares no check shall be written for less than $1, but the law is broken every day in the year.

SYNOPSIS

John Ballard, left poor by the same fate that deprived him of his parents, works his way through college. He meets and loves Viola Ruskin, but does not speak his heart because of his purse. As a lawyer, he fights railroad negligence so successfully that Phil Hardin, son of the President of the road against which John cherishes vendetta for his parents' death, offers him a staggering salary to join the road's legal staff. John weavers. Then Phil reveals that he plans to marry Viola. Phil's father is anxious to get John, realizing he is going to be a great trial lawyer.

"So I imagine. That's what we need. You can get ten men who can write a good brief for one who can really sway a jury, nowadays. Eloquence in the courtroom is becoming a lost art. And, in the last analysis, it's the juries that cost us money in these damage and accident cases."

"You know—" Phil hesitated. "Father, one reason I've not taken more interest in my work is that it seems to me we aren't doing as well as we could. Why don't we spend more money to prevent accidents, and less to get out of paying for those we do have?"

Mr. Hardin scowled. "You've not reached a position in the road yet that requires you to consider questions of policy, Phil," he said, coldly. "Modern railway financing is a complex problem. We work under difficulties you don't understand. It's extremely hard to borrow money. The N. Y. and C. V. is trying, even now, to float a big bond issue. We need money to take over competing shipping lines, and to extend our own motor bus lines. We've lost a lot of business to these independent bus lines lately, and we've got to get it back. We way, won't we, no matter how it turns out?"

"Always," she said. "I like you a lot, Phil."

Lives are ruled by queer and tragically inconsistent events. John Ballard, loving Viola with all his heart, went to see her resolved to discover the true state of her feeling for Phil Hardin. He resolved, equally, to hide his love from her until he knew. Had he gone to her openly, told her the truth, the whole course of many lives would have been altered.

But fantastic notions of one sort and another hampered him; kept him from seeing the facts in a true light. He regarded Phil as his friend, and, in spite of all that Phil had said, he could not quite rid himself of the notion that Phil had reposed a certain confidence in him, which he would be abusing should he go now to Viola and tell her out and out, that he loved her and wanted her to marry him.

He was, as a matter of fact, awkward and shy and rather tongue-tied when he went to see Viola. The old freedom of intercourse between them was gone; there was a curious constraint. It was understandable enough. Viola had, for the first time, confessed to Phil, that she loved John; it was he, of course, whom she had meant when she had told Phil that she loved a man who, she thought, didn't love her.

That made for constraint because Viola was old-fashioned enough in her upbringing to feel, somehow, that she would be unmanly if she did anything to let John see the real state of her feelings for him. They talked of indifferent things; of old times in Newton. Finally they came to John's career.

"I don't know," he said. "It's slow work getting started. And, if I want to go into politics, I've got to refuse a lot of business that would be profitable. I can't take cases of a certain sort, because it's held against a man, in politics, if he's ever been known as a corporation lawyer. Some of the ablest men in this country have never been able to run for high office for that reason."

"Well, I hope you'll always put your career first, John," she said, her eyes shining. "I believe in you—I have faith in you. I know you will do great things if you only give yourself the chance."

And, while she was saying that, he was wondering desperately whether he had the right to take the retainer Phil had offered him, so that he might have money enough to ask her to be his wife! "Waiting's pretty hard," he said, wistfully. "How would you feel, Viola? If—well, if you wanted to be married for instance? Would you like to wait?"

"I'd want to know right away," she said. "I wouldn't want to wait, no."

And from that moment every word either of them said served only to widen the gap of utter misunderstanding between them. He stayed on, talking, but he was never so near again to doing the only thing that could have saved the day—blurted out the truth. Phil's name came up; in her nervousness she spoke of him in such a way that John thought she cared for him. That was the end.

The next morning John, in his office, wrote a brief note to Phil, saying he had given the matter serious consideration, and had decided to continue private practice, and declined the offer of the N. Y. and C. V. R. R. And the following day the newspapers contained the announcement of the engagement of Viola and Phil.

John wrote Phil another note—this time one of congratulation. To Viola he didn't write; he couldn't bring himself to do so. For the future he no longer cared—or thought he didn't care. His life, it seemed to him, was doomed, now, no matter what might happen. Sterility and futility. All hope of happiness had died with the printed words that told him his long dream of winning Viola Ruskin was at an end.

Yet it was that very day that, for the first time, the career he had always planned loomed up as possible. For there came to him, in his office, the editor of a great newspaper, George Warren.

"I've heard a story about you that interests me a good deal, Mr. Ballard," said the editor. "They tell me you have refused to accept an almost unprecedented offer from the N. Y. and C. V.?"

"I refused a very good offer—yes," said John. "Why?"

"I'll tell you why," said Warren. "This country is pretty definitely ruled by the Balderston ring. But—that won't always be so. We're driving the wedges right now. Not this year—not even, perhaps, in the next election, four years from now—but, some day—we're going to elect a reform district attorney. And—if you go on as you've begun you will be that man. I want you to keep that in mind."

John's heart leaped. Was this the chance he had always hoped for?

Men? Oh, Well!

Men are of some use after all! So the National Federation of Women's Institutions has decided. At a recent meeting in London a resolution was adopted urging more "co-operation with the men, especially with regard to moral and dramatic societies." The mere male receives few bouquets at meetings of the federation, and even this one had a string on it. It was the only one of Mrs. Amy Adams, who voted the resolution, that the men should say that "at last the women are admitted they need men's help."

Letter Must Be "Posted"

The Post-Office department says that mail does not come under the protection of the government until it is dropped in the mail box. Simply placing a postage stamp on a letter or package does not in any way insure protection of the United States postal service, nor is the government in any responsible for it.

"Danking"

This term is applied to the moistening or softening of zwiebacks, cakes, crackers and bread crusts in coffee, tea or milk. While it is not considered "good form," it is greatly enjoyed by small children and old people, whose teeth are no longer strong enough to cope with such hard substances.

Flowers in Sick Room

There is a theory that growing plants absorb certain elements from the air and for this reason it is not considered advisable to have them in a sleeping room. The effect would probably not be seriously detrimental in a sick room, provided the flowers did not have a heavy odor and there were not too many plants.

Settles Old Puzzle

The bureau of standards says that the existence of an irresistible force and an immovable body at the same time is impossible according to all known laws. As the very existence of the two conditions at the same time cannot take place, it is necessarily impossible to state what would happen if the conditions did exist.

Fish in Captivity

Few of the largest fish ever breed in captivity; domestic responsibilities apparently are tossed aside when fish are limited in their living quarters, but among the smaller fish it has been possible to breed them in captivity and with measurable success.

A COURT BUMP FOR FLORIDA

THE United States supreme court has put a large crimp in the hope of Florida that its state constitutional prohibition of estate taxes would be a strong inducement for men and women of wealth to establish residences and bases of operation in that state. It is the judgment of the court that Florida is not immune from the collection of federal estate taxes as provided for in the existing revenue act. Under this act it is possible for all the states levying inheritance or estate tax of their own to retain 80 per cent of the amount levied by the federal government. As Florida has no state inheritance, it loses all but 20 per cent of the advantage it aimed to set up as a magnet to attract wealth to it.

There has been mighty little friendly interest in other states in the particular complaint put forward by Florida against the federal inheritance tax law. An obvious selfish purpose lay behind the adoption of Florida's constitutional inhibition.

On the other hand, there is a widespread feeling in the states that the federal government should retire altogether from the business of taxing estates for national treasury purposes. President Coolidge believes that this sort of taxation should be left exclusively to the several states. There is plenty of evidence that the sum of state taxation and federal taxation works flagrant injustice in many cases, and sometimes almost amounts to confiscation.

The federal law as it now stands virtually operates as coercion on the states to establish or maintain inheritance tax systems of their own, whether they desire to do so or not, and to formulate their systems with intimate reference to the federal law.

With its surpluses in the last few years the United States government has shown that it can fill its revenue chest without recourse to estate taxation. The court of last resort has decided that the present law is valid as a federal measure, but that does not have any bearing on the merit or demerit of the law in respect of a public policy. Florida's only hope now is that pressure from that and other states can effect repeal of the federal inheritance tax provision.—Minneapolis Tribune.

DIVORCE AND NEWS

ENGLAND in prohibiting the publication of divorce testimony or "details injurious to public morals" takes a definite move toward cleaner journalism, says the Dearborn Independent in a recent editorial.

The question of the freedom of the press, raised by some, does not enter in for the simple reason that no political or economic right is abridged. No right of comment is curtailed. All that is done is to prevent the printing of a certain type of unsavory scandal.

The regrettable feature of the case is that the newspapers did not take the step themselves, continues the Dearborn Independent; they waited for the law to compel them. The same thing is now happening in this country. The pendulum of "news" has swung so far beyond the line of common decency that it is but a question of time before the state will step in, unless the press itself takes corrective measures.

It has been the invariable custom in America to allow institutions a long period in which to remedy their own evils. But if reform does not come, then the people rise up in their own right and abolish them.

It may be stated by the Dispatch that bare statements of some divorce cases are permissible, but the unsavory scandal of any divorce proceeding should not be given extended publicity. In our courts at Brainerd cases sometimes occur with testimony of such a nature that the public is barred from the court room. To publish such testimony would give offense to judge and bar and the parties in the case, as well as offending common decency of our readers.

WHY MIX THE TRADES?

THE Isle Advance states that it believes that the co-operative creamery in that village should not attempt to engage in the mercantile business but should confine its activities to the business of making butter. The Advance in all probability has assumed the correct position. If the farmers in that community want a co-operative mercantile company, they should make that a separate financial venture.

It is always refreshing in a small community to find a business house confining its activities to its own field. We would be more than a little disturbed if we should find our meat markets in this village putting in a line of ladies' millinery, and we want to congratulate the garages in having thus far refrained from carrying a stock of ladies' silk hose or toilet articles.—Princeton Union.

BULK OF OUR TOYS NOW MADE IN U. S. A.

CHRISTMAS is over and it may be interesting to know that more toys have been manufactured in the United States during recent years than ever before. Figures available for the year 1925 show a production valued at more than $75,000,000. Twenty years ago Germany dominated the toy trade of the world and continues to do so outside of this country, but here German toys now account for only five per cent of the demand, although in 1904, the proportion was almost fifty per cent.—Red Wing Daily Eagle.

WE received a Phoenix, Arizona, booster edition of a Phoenix paper from H. F. Michael, former Brainerd man now residing there. It is a wonderful record of achievement in that section and shows Phoenix, phoenix-like, arising to greater heights in the world of commerce, art, science, manufacturing, agriculture, etc.

TODD county, getting in line with other enlightened counties, is considering the purchasing of snow removal equipment. There has been a heavy blockade, for instance, of roads leading into Staples.

A MACHINE gun, three sawed-off shotguns and three high power rifles have been added to Owatonna equipment to guard against bank robbers.

A UNITED STATES statute declares no check shall be written for less than $1, but the law is broken every day in the year.

49 AMERICAN WOMEN, CHILDREN NOW AT SHANGHAI

GIVE ACCOUNTS OF THE FLIGHT FROM HANKOW, CHINA

THE CHINESE UPRISING FORCED THEM TO FLEE HURRIEDLY

By CAL S. HIRSH (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, Jan. 10. — Forty-nine American women and children have arrived here from Hankow and today gave accounts of their flight from that city when the Chinese uprising forced them to leave.

Haggard and exhausted, possessing no clothes save what they wore and all hungry, the refugees arrived in pitiful condition, but glad nonetheless that they had escaped.

The three days' rations the Americans had brought with them when they boarded vessels at Hankow, at the suggestion of the British consul general, were exhausted. The odds and ends of clothing they had snatched up in the flight from their homes barely had sufficed for the trip.

The refugees, who came from various parts of the country, told of the three days of terror in Hankow, when foreigners fearfully awaited the spark that would inflame China as during the Boxer rebellion.

With the Americans were many British women, who fled from Hankow and Kiukiang, when a violent Chinese mob participated in anti-foreign demonstrations. In the latter city, Japanese reports said, the Chinese military flag has been raised over the British consulate.

All foreigners—American, Japanese and French—were virtually held prisoners in their own homes while the Chinese staged their demonstrations against the British, according to Mrs. J. S. Pollard, of Baltimore, wife of Commander Admiral S. Pollard. Granted but a few hours' warning to make their flight, the women gathered together a few valuables and embarked aboard a British steamer. Deserted homes then were then invaded, Mrs. Pollard, said by coolies, soldiers and camp followers who joined the Cantonese army in taking possession of the concessions.

Shanghai, Jan. 10.—Barbed wire barricades were erected in Shanghai today as the municipal council prepared for eventualities in connection with the possible movement of the Cantonese nationalist armies against this rich prize.

Foreign holdings in Shanghai are valued at $375,000,000.

The council decided to accept military forces for the defense of the city in the event the Cantonese swarmed down the Yangtze valley. "We will rigorously suppress violence," the council announced, "and we will not hesitate to use all the means at our disposal."

Peking, Jan. 10.—British missionaries were reported today to be leaving interior points, where conditions were becoming worse, and moving toward Yangtze forts, where they will be able to board boats for less dangerous zones.

Women and children were leaving Chang.

The situation was less tense at Hankow. Banking and business was resumed, after having been suspended several days. Many missionary women and children have remained in Hankow in defiance of the order of the British consul general.

Quarter Hundred of Years Old

The quarter-century milestone of the foundation of this Company is reached this year. From an unpretentious start, the Company's progress has been notable in mercantile history.

This has not been simply because of its remarkable growth, but more noticeably on account of the success its many stores have attained in giving a service to the public that has been idealized by customers.

Through all the 25 years, the concern of the Company has been chiefly in providing high standard quality goods at lowest possible prices and safeguarding its customers so that this service might always be enjoyed by them.

Day after day and year after year, the Company in every way, has endeavored to serve the public better than was expected. That it has succeeded in these endeavors is shown by the fact that the combined sales of all its stores in 1926 were approximately $25,000,000 more than in 1925.

With the Americans were many British women, who fled from Hankow and Kiukiang, when a violent Chinese mob participated in anti-foreign demonstrations. In the latter city, a Japanese reports said, the Chinese military flag has been raised over the British consulate.

All foreigners—American, Japanese and French—were virtually held prisoners in their own homes while the Chinese staged their demonstrations against the British, according to Mrs. J. S. Pollard, of Baltimore, wife of Commander Admiral S. Pollard. Granted but a few hours' warning to make their flight, the women gathered together a few valuables and embarked aboard a British steamer. Deserted homes then were then invaded. Mrs. Pollard, said by coolies, soldiers and camp followers who joined the Cantonese army in taking possession of the concessions.

Shanghai, Jan. 10.—Barbed wire barricades were erected in Shanghai today as the municipal council prepared for eventualities in connection with the possible movement of the Cantonese nationalist armies against this rich prize.

Foreign holdings in Shanghai are valued at $375,000,000.

The council decided to accept military forces for the defense of the city in the event the Cantonese swarmed down the Yangtze valley. "We will rigorously suppress violence," the council announced, "and we will not hesitate to use all the means at our disposal."

Peking, Jan. 10.—British missionaries were reported today to be leaving interior points, where conditions were becoming worse, and moving toward Yangtze forts, where they will be able to board boats for less dangerous zones.

Women and children were leaving Chang.

The situation was less tense at Hankow. Banking and business was resumed, after having been suspended several days. Many missionary women and children have remained in Hankow in defiance of the order of the British consul general.

Quarter Hundred of Years Old

The quarter-century milestone of the foundation of this Company is reached this year. From an unpretentious start, the Company's progress has been notable in mercantile history.

This has not been simply because of its remarkable growth, but more noticeably on account of the success its many stores have attained in giving a service to the public that has been idealized by customers.

Through all the 25 years, the concern of the Company has been chiefly in providing high standard quality goods at lowest possible prices and safeguarding its customers so that this service might always be enjoyed by them.

Day after day and year after year, the Company in every way, has endeavored to serve the public better than was expected. That it has succeeded in these endeavors is shown by the fact that the combined sales of all its stores in 1926 were approximately $25,000,000 more than in 1925.

ENGBRETSON STARS IN SATURDAY GAME

RAINBOWS SWAMP THE ISLE FIVE WITH BARRAGE OF SHOTS

ENGBRETSON LEADS MATES TO BRILLIANT 52 TO 13 VICTORY

BRAINERD CAPTAIN COUNTS 11 TIMES FROM FIELD TO LEAD SCORING

Captain Wally Engbretson led his mates to a brilliant victory at the expense of the Isle five Saturday night, the final gun sounding on a 52 to 13 score in favor of the locals. Engbretson had one of his best nights of the whole year, dropping 11 field goals through the mesh, and sinking two free throws to bring his total to 24 points for the evening's work.

Isle played one of the cleanest games seen by a team here this year, and worked themselves into the good graces of the crowd by their continued efforts, playing the entire game without substitutes. Lud, who played left forward, was brilliant even in defeat, scoring 8 of his team's 13 points, and leading the attack throughout the contest. The Isle squad held their opponents even through the first quarter, and were on the short end of a 13 to 7 score at the half.

The Rainbows displayed a new form of attack, which centered largely around Engbretson. With the start of the third period the locals began doing their stuff effectively, and in that period counted 23 points, following in the next period with 16 more.

Every man on the Rainbows team did well, Ziebell playing a whale of a game at center, counting 4 field goals, while Ericsson used his alertness to good advantage, counting 4 baskets. Nutting, playing about a period and a half, counted twice from the field, while Larson, taking part at forward and at center, made one field goal. Welsh played a bang-up game at running guard, scoring twice, while the other guards, Lawrenz, Fitzsimmons and Orth, played staunch games on defense.

Engbretson could have scored more than his 11 baskets, but on several instances elected to pass to a mate in better position to score, when he himself was already in good location. The pass to a teammate resulted in most cases in the desired goal. How well Engbretson was shooting may be seen from a glance at the record, which shows that he missed only 10 tries for the basket from the field, while making good on 11. In the third period he tried six shots from the field, making five of them. Altogether, the Rainbows made 24 baskets, while missing 54 shots. Isle made 5 field goals, and missed 31 shots.

The game was a great conditioner for the Red Wing game on Saturday of this week, when the Rainbows face the fast Redmen team from that place. This will be about the best basketball evening to be seen on the Brainerd floor this year.

ILLINOIS LEADS IN CAGE RACE

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(UP)—Illinois, with two victories and no defeats, is leading in the Big Ten basketball race. Four other teams, Michigan, Iowa, Indiana, and Purdue, have one victory and no defeats on their records.

Much of the credit for Illinois' position in the title chase goes to Russel Daugherty who is leading the western conference for individual scoring with six field goals and five free throws.

BRAINERD HIGH SECOND TEAM 13, PEQUOT 20

DRIVE, STAMINA, WEIGHT OF PEQUOT PROVED FORMIDABLE

STARS FOR BRAINERD WERE R. BOYD AND BENTLEY

The Brainerd high school second team was defeated Saturday evening in its first game by Pequot, 20-13. The drive, stamina, and weight of the Pequot men contributed largely to the local's downfall. The half stood 11-8 in favor of Brainerd but the locals were outplayed completely in the last two periods by their opponents.

R. Boyd and Bentley were stars for Brainerd, each netting two field goals while the rest of the count was made by throws from the foul line and another field goal by Hautala. Boys making the trip were Boyd, Mayo Lawrenz, Harry Goedderz, forwards; Bentley, center; Earl Fuller, Bernard Foster, Arthur Hautala, guards.

The first team will play Aitkin at Aitkin tomorrow night and although the latter is a conference team the game will not be counted on a percentage basis. Aitkin defeated Crosby, Friday, 39-14, and the locals knowing the caliber of their opponents will have quite a bee in their bonnet if able to pull down another victory. The contest should prove a wonderful workout for the men as they meet Crosby here next Friday night in a game which will be a battle to the finish.

Second place in men's singles goes to Lucien Williams, also of Chicago, and these two compose what the association picks as the best men's doubles team.

Miss Marion Leighton of Chicago is ranked as the leading woman player in singles and first ranking in women's doubles goes to Miss Clara Burke and Mrs. Olga Weil, both of Cincinnati.

Emmett Pare of Chicago was selected as the best singles player among the juniors.

FLYING ACES WIN AGAIN

Defeated Masked Marvels 17 to 6, Fitzharris Led Scoring With 4 Goals

In the preliminary game the Flying Aces defeated the Masked Marvels, 17 to 6. The Marvels were leading at the half, but could not stand the pace set by the Aces in the second half. Fitzharris led the scoring with four field goals. Heikinen was forced out of the game in the third period when he crashed against a radiator, cutting his knee badly.

The Masked Marvels came out on the field of battle in pirate fashion, four of the men with old army muskets, guarding the fifth, who carried the ball. Stacking their arms against the posts, they went through their paces in practice, then started the game. In the heat of the contest their masks came off, and the team stood revealed as follows: forwards, Whitlock and Eckholm; center, Dillan; guards, Tribur and Hagberg. The Aces used their regular line-up.

STAR SPEEDILY AND EASILY ADDED TO CLUB

CONFERENCE WITH McGRAW WAS SHORT AND SWEET ONE

ST. LOUIS MAN NOW CAPTAIN, CONTRACT OF $40,000 A YEAR

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent) New York, Jan. 10.—Satisfaction in the household of the New York Giants over the speed and ease which attended the signing of Rogers Hornsby to a new contract hardly will spread to the fireside of the Yankees.

The Yankees aren't so narrow minded in business as to wish their national league rivals trouble in securing the biggest drawing card in the league but they must feel that they will have to come big to get their prize, Babe Ruth, on a new pact with as little difficulty.

Hornsby came to the Giants from St. Louis with a contract that had another year to run calling for $30,000 a year. After handling a club that brought the first pennant and world's championship to St. Louis, Hornsby was deposited because he demanded a three year contract at $50,000 a year.

When Hornsby responded to a summons to come to New York and talk business, John McGraw, manager of the club, is said to have opened the negotiations by tearing up the contract that had been mailed from St. Louis and saying to the star—"well, what will the new one be?"

The conference was short and sweet and Hornsby found himself in possession of a two-year job at $40,000 a year and a title as captain of the Giants.

It was the first time in years that McGraw had given one of his athletes a contract for more than one year as he has an idea that a long time contract makes a player feel too secure in his job and does not give him the inducement to hustle.

The Yankees, no doubt, do not fear that Hornsby will be such a drawing card as to dim the luster of their "Babe" but they surely realize that the magnanimous way in which the Giants handled the Rajah will not be lost upon a Ruth mind that has turned very business-like in recent years.

Within a few weeks the Yankees will mail out new contracts to their athletes and one will have to be sent to the Babe as his $52,000 a year contract has expired.

The Babe has been too busy depositing exhibition and vaudeville pay checks to talk about baseball but it is accepted as a fact that he will be modest enough to suggest that he is worth $150,000 next year.

It is a cinch, after the great work he did last season and after he has heard that his rival had been given a $10,000 a year boost for two years that the Babe will insist that he is worth a raise.

The Babe and Hornsby are about the only outstanding stars in baseball who have escaped all the scandal talk. Of course, there has been a lot of gossip about Hornsby's love of the horses but it was interesting to hear Hornsby say when asked if he was going to the races:

"There's my boss (pointing to McGraw). If he doesn't want me to bet I won't."

With Hornsby working as the prize elephant of the Giants, the Yankees will be forced in self defense to keep the Babe and to keep him they will have to give him very close to what he wants.

Love's Cruelties

Ed Howe discovers that as a race becomes more practical with age, the credits and debts of love are gone over with more candor and wisdom. Some of the debts are very hard on both sides; some say worse with women than with men. Still, love sometimes slaps a man pretty hard, too.—Cap- per's Weekly.

Double Vision

Sir James Taggart tells this story about Lord Aberdeen. The latter was walking along a street in Edinburgh when a tipsy fellow bumped into him. A patrolman reproved the man, saying, "Do you know that you have run into the marquis of Aberdeen and Tennant?" "Gild Lord, am I as drunk as a' that?" said the culprit. "Is there two o' them?"—Boston Transcript.

CITY ALL STARS WIN FIRST HOCKEY TILT OF SEASON

DEFEAT BRAINERD BUSINESS MEN BY SCORE OF 5-2 YESTERDAY

PLAN HOCKEY ORGANIZATION; ASHER TAYLOR IS NAMED CHAIRMAN

Chasers of the puck had the opportunity to watch the first hockey game of the season, Sunday, when a group of Brainerd business men appeared versus the Brainerd All Stars at the Outdoor Sports club hockey rink. Quite a large crowd turned out to witness the defeat of the challenging business men who were taken into camp by the score of 5 to 2 by the All Stars. The line-up for the Business men included:

Center—George Orth.
Forward—Roy Hegstad.
Forward—W. J. Giles.
Defense—Asher Taylor.
Defense—C. J. Werner.
Goal—McNamara.
Spares—Wagner, Dr. Anderson, Buss.

For the All Stars:
Forward—Creeger.
Defense—Flaata.
Center—Carl Peterson.
Defense—Don McNamara.
Goal—Fox.
Forward—Cal Orth.

For the All Stars, Orth proved one of the most brilliant, having three goals to his credit. For the Business men G. Orth, Asher Taylor and McNamara played a whale of a game. According to reports Mr. Taylor was a member of one of Duluth's former championship hockey teams and no doubt will be a valuable player on any local team that may be formed.

A hockey league is being organized and as soon as the rink is in perfect shape, contests will be arranged. Mr. Taylor has been appointed chairman of the league committee.

In the preliminary game the Flying Aces defeated the Masked Marvels, 17 to 6. The Marvels were leading at the half, but could not stand the pace set by the Aces in the second half. Fitzharris led the scoring with four field goals. Heikinen was forced out of the game in the third period when he crashed against a radiator, cutting his knee badly.

The Masked Marvels came out on the field of battle in pirate fashion, four of the men with old army muskets, guarding the fifth, who carried the ball. Stacking their arms against the posts, they went through their paces in practice, then started the game. In the heat of the contest their masks came off, and the team stood revealed as follows: forwards, Whitlock and Eckholm; center, Dillan; guards, Tribur and Hagberg. The Aces used their regular line-up.

STAR SPEEDILY AND EASILY ADDED TO CLUB

CONFERENCE WITH McGRAW WAS SHORT AND SWEET ONE

ST. LOUIS MAN NOW CAPTAIN, CONTRACT OF $40,000 A YEAR

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent) New York, Jan. 10.—Satisfaction in the household of the New York Giants over the speed and ease which attended the signing of Rogers Hornsby to a new contract hardly will spread to the fireside of the Yankees.

The Yankees aren't so narrow minded in business as to wish their national league rivals trouble in securing the biggest drawing card in the league but they must feel that they will have to come big to get their prize, Babe Ruth, on a new parchment with as little difficulty.

Hornsby came to the Giants from St. Louis with a contract that had another year to run calling for $30,000 a year. After handling a club that brought the first pennant and world's championship to St. Louis, Hornsby was deposed because he demanded a three year contract at $50,000 a year.

When Hornsby responded to a summons to come to New York and talk business, John McGraw, manager of the club, is said to have opened the negotiations by tearing up the contract that had been mailed from St. Louis and saying to the star—"well, what will the new one be?"

The conference was short and sweet and Hornsby found himself in possession of a two-year job at $40,000 a year and a title as captain of the Giants.

It was the first time in years that McGraw had given one of his athletes a contract for more than one year as he has an idea that a long time contract makes a player feel too secure in his job and does not give him the inducement to hustle.

The Yankees, no doubt, do not fear that Hornsby will be such a drawing card as to dim the luster of their "Babe" but they surely realize that the magnanimous way in which the Giants handled the Rajah will not be lost upon a Ruth mind that has turned very business-like in recent years.

Within a few weeks the Yankees will mail out new contracts to their athletes and one will have to be sent to the Babe as his $52,000 a year contract has expired.

The Babe has been too busy depositing exhibition and vaudeville pay checks to talk about baseball but it is accepted as a fact that he will be modest enough to suggest that he is worth $150,000 next year. It is a cinch, after the great work he did last season and after he has heard that his rival had been given a $10,000 a year boost for two years that the Babe will insist that he is worth a raise.

The Babe and Hornsby are about the only outstanding stars in baseball who have escaped all the scandal talk. Of course, there has been a lot of gossip about Hornsby's love of the horses but it was interesting to hear Hornsby say when asked if he was going to the races: "There's my boss (pointing to McGraw). If he doesn't want me to bet I won't."

With Hornsby working as the prize elephant of the Giants, the Yankees will be forced in self defense to keep the Babe and to keep him they will have to give him very close to what he wants.

Love's Cruelties

Ed Howe discovers that as a race becomes more practical with age, the credits and debts of love are gone over with more candor and wisdom. Some of the debts are very hard on both sides; some say worse with women than with men. Still, love sometimes slaps a man pretty hard, too.—Cap-per's Weekly.

Double Vision

Sir James Taggart tells this story about Lord Aberdeen. The latter was walking along a street in Edinburgh when a tipsy fellow bumped into him. A patrolman reproved the man, saying, "Do you know that you have run into the marquis of Aberdeen and Tenuhr?" "Guil Lord, am I as drunk as a' that?" said the culprit. "Is there two o' them?"—Boston Transcript.

CITY ALL STARS WIN FIRST HOCKEY TILT OF SEASON

DEFEAT BRAINERD BUSINESS MEN BY SCORE OF 5-2 YESTERDAY

PLAN HOCKEY ORGANIZATION; ASHER TAYLOR IS NAMED CHAIRMAN

Chasers of the puck had the opportunity to watch the first hockey game of the season, Sunday, when a group of Brainerd business men appeared versus the Brainerd All Stars at the Outdoor Sports club hockey rink. Quite a large crowd turned out to witness the defeat of the challenging business men who were taken into camp by the score of 5 to 2 by the All Stars. The line-up for the Business men included:

Center—George Orth.
Forward—Roy Hegstad.
Forward—W. J. Giles.
Defense—Asher Taylor.
Defense—C. J. Werner.
Goal—McNamara.
Spares—Wagner, Dr. Anderson, Buss.

For the All Stars:
Forward—Creger.
Defense—Flaata.
Center—Carl Peterson.
Defense—Don McNamara.
Goal—Fox.

For the All Stars, Orth proved one of the most brilliant, having three goals to his credit. For the Business men G. Orth, Asher Taylor and McNamara played a whale of a game. According to reports Mr. Taylor was a member of one of Duluth's former championship hockey teams and no doubt will be a valuable player on any local team that may be formed.

A hockey league is being organized and as soon as the rink is in perfect shape, contests will be arranged. Mr. Taylor has been appointed chairman of the league committee.

Earliest Manuscripts

Illuminated manuscripts are those whose texts are brightened and heightened by vignettes and otherwise decorated in colors, or in gold and silver. Fifteen centuries before Christ the papyrus rolls of the "Book of the Dead" were illuminated with brilliant colored scenes. Later, as writing became alphabetic, the important letters were illuminated.

Made Some Progress

Possibly it may be true, as some one has said, that the wickedness of today is more spectacular than the wickedness of other years, which would lead to the impression there is more of it. Anybody who has lived half a century can remember that sin used to do a lot of sneaking.—Toledo Blade.

WEATHER GETS COLDER

Lowest Temperature Recorded Last Evening Was 17 Degrees Below

Clear cold weather started the week off for Brainerd and the county with the temperature recording as the minimum 17 degrees below zero after almost a week of mild weather when the thermometer went up as high as 40 degrees above zero.

The cold wave started late Saturday night accompanied by snow and wind. Highways were almost completely obliterated by the sweeping snow but the dispatching of snowplows early yesterday morning cleared the roads for bus and automobile traffic.

Radio weather predictions announced last evening over WCCO show that the entire northwest is in for clear cold weather for today and tomorrow.

The temperature at 8 o'clock this morning was 15 degrees below zero.

A Paige 6-45 Sedan
For A Name

HERE is your opportunity to get this new 1927 Paige 6-45 Sedan. Nothing to buy; no obligation—just give us a name for our stores, as explained in the rules of this contest.

We are a member of the North West Buyers and Jobbers, Inc. There are 134 stores in Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Wisconsin who form a co-operative association for the manufacturing and buying of men's clothing and furnishings. This gives us a tremendous buying power which saves our customers money.

These stores are owned wholly by people living in your own town and they have an interest in your community. You profit by the savings we give you in the merchandise you buy and by the development of your community, as the profits stay at home and help to build it up.

The name North West Buyers & Jobbers, Inc., is too long and we are looking for a better name.

It should bring out the idea that this is a locally owned store, or that it is one of a chain of co-operative buying stores, or the idea of a store which saves its customers money. It should be short, possibly two or three words, and it must be a name which is not now being used by other stores.

Fill in the coupon and bring it in soon. Someone will get this new Paige 6-45 Sedan and it may be you.

RULES OF CONTEST

Coupons will be accepted beginning Saturday, January 8th.

Write plainly on the coupon one name only. Any number of names may be entered, but only one name will be accepted on each coupon.

The coupons should be deposited at the earliest possible date, as in case of two or more entering the same name the first one received will be the winner.

Coupons must be brought into the store from whose advertisement it was taken and no coupons will be accepted by mail. Saturday, January 29th, is the closing date and no coupons will be accepted after that date.

The Paige Sedan will be awarded February 15th. The judges for this contest are Mr. J. M. Riegel, Secretary and Treasurer Pioneer Press and Dispatch; Mr. C. E. Buckbee, President Buckbee-Mears Company; and Mr. Howard Kahn, Managing Editor Daily News—St. Paul.

Employees of this store will not be permitted to enter into this contest.

Do Without Glasses

The Andorrans drink long and copiously from leather bottles in exactly the same way as the Jewish patriarchs did, only with this exception—that they hold it a few inches from the mouth and allow the wine of the country to pour in. This makes cups and glasses unnecessary, for all drink from the same bottle, and one suffices for a family.

Very Good, Pupils

New answers were given to old questions in a test given recently to Sacramento high school sophomores. "Alcohol is made from gasoline," "Air brakes are used on balloons," "Organic is a kind of marmalade," and "Bacon comes from a cow," were some of the answers.

"Yard" Dead Honored

In one of the corridors of Scotland Yard burns a light which never has been put out, and the intention is that it never shall be. It burns in memory of those men of the "Yard" who were killed in the World war, and has an inscription to that effect.

Glacier's Work Measured

There is two kinds of men that I don't care to meet when I am in a grate hurry; men that I owe and men that want to owe me.—Josh Billings.

RED PEPPER HEAT
QUICKEST RELIEF
FOR RHEUMATISM

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It cannot hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package. —Advt.

Poetic Idea of Pearls

What are pearls? One poet says they are "the tears of a goddess dropped into the sea—caught to the heart of the pearl oyster and there treasured as the purest gem of the ocean." Another says, "The air gives us the rainbow; the meteor fire; the earth the ruby, but it is the sea that yields the pearl."

The Wonderful Thing

To many men the dictation of letters is not half so wonderful as the fact that they can go right ahead and use all the big words they don't know how to spell.—Springfield News.

Stimulation Great
For Old Age

Quick Way to Renew Vitality

Because it helps modify the nutritive processes, scientists claim that proper stimulation has a pronounced moderating effect on the breaking down processes in the human body and thus may add ten years to the average life span.

To get real nourishment out of the food you eat is life-giving, and the body-building elements thus created nourish the tissues and strengthen the nerves and vital processes. When there is incomplete nourishment, even though you eat heartily, disintegration of the body cells follows, and we become run-down, thin and undersize.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wine-glass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy. —Advt.

Brief From Billville

IF KIDNEYS ACT
BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. —Advt.

Do Without Glasses

The Andorrans drink long and copiously from leather bottles in exactly the same way as the Jewish patriarchs did, only with this exception—that they hold it a few inches from the mouth and allow the wine of the country to pour in. This makes cups and glasses unnecessary, for all drink from the same bottle, and one suffices for a family.

"Yard" Dead Honored

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It cannot hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Poetic Idea of Pearls

What are pearls? One poet says they are "the tears of a goddess dropped into the sea—caught to the heart of the pearl oyster and there treasured as the purest gem of the ocean." Stimulation Great
For Old Age

Quick Way to Renew Vitality

Because it helps modify the nutritive processes, scientists claim that proper stimulation has a pronounced moderating effect on the breaking down processes in the human body and thus may add ten years to the average life span.

To get real nourishment out of the food you eat is life-giving, and the body-building elements thus created nourish the tissues and strengthen the nerves and vital processes. When there is incomplete nourishment, even though you eat heartily, disintegration of the body cells follows, and we become run-down, thin and undersize.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wine-glass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy. —Advt.
